Ancient Landscape, Modern Times

Eric Ravilious and the Artists of the Chalk Downs

At the Holburne, Bath, on Thursday 12th November 2026

When our January lecturer, James Russell, spoke to us on 'Eric Ravilious' he mentioned that he would be curating an exhibition at the Holburne Museum and Art gallery in Bath. Here's your chance to visit his exhibition.

As a site of ancient hill carvings, expansive vistas and distinctive white cliffs, the chalklands of southern England became the focus of a number of twentieth-century artists, writers and thinkers. The Holburne is delighted to present an exhibition bringing together works by Eric Ravilious, William Nicholson, Paul Nash, John Nash, Tirzah Garwood, Peggy Angus and other British artists from the 1910s to the 1940s.

Your ticket includes access to this exhibition, all the galleries and a second special exhibition: 'Sunlit Uplands and Withdrawing Rooms' featuring ceramic art created by Richard Slee.

The Holburne café serves coffee, teas and light lunches but, if you do not wish to spend the whole day at the Holburne, Bath Abbey and the Roman Baths are just half a mile away.

Tickets are £42.00 per person including entrance to the Holburne and to the special exhibitions. If you would like to go to Bath but not the Holburne it's £28.00 for coach only.
